Foreword

A cycle is completed; progress is made; a goal is achieved. A new cycle begins, and we strive to achieve more than those who have preceded us. We set our goals realistically and in terms of what we know we can accomplish.

So many cycles are completed throughout our lives, and the progress which has been made is often tangible. When we entered Wesleyan, we no longer were considered "high school graduates," but "college students"—definite progress toward acquiring an education. We were "seniors" when we left high school and became "freshmen" when we entered college—the beginning of a new cycle, a chance to begin our higher academic pursuits with a clean record.

Every year of college a definite cycle is completed—registration for first semester, final exams, registration for second semester, and final exams. With the completion of each year comes the gaining of new class status, a wider knowledge of life, people, and academic studies, and the chance to begin each year with a clean record.

At the end of four years we complete our college cycle only to become "freshmen" in the career of our choice. We have gained tangible proof in the form of a diploma and the practical applications of what we have learned, but the intangible is what makes college life such an unforgettable and unique experience for each one of us.

A cycle is completed; progress is made; a goal is achieved.

MISS ANN MUNCK

Dedication

We love her because she loves us—for what we are, for what we could be if we tried. That's what makes her such a fascinating person—her keen, immediate perception of the worth of every individual. Her wisdom is, in part, a result of this perceptiveness, coupled with a brilliance that delights in academic pursuit.

When she scolds us, we thank her for the compliment. When she praises us, we find ourselves overcome with humility. The very thought of her inspires and encourages us to strive toward intellectual perfection.

Hers is a beauty that radiates from the depths of a lovely soul. Her smile is a token of her love for mankind; her gentle voice is an indication of her quiet, refined manner; her activities are a reflection of herself as teacher, as student, as friend.

We the Senior Class of 1964 dedicate this Veterropt to—

Like leaves on trees the race of man is found,
Now green in youth, now withering on the ground:
Another race the following spring supplies:
They fall successive, and successive rise.

CAMPUS LIFE

And to which honor societies do you belong?

The candid subject is the real subject; the student off-guard is a personality captured. At our leisure, at play, in our work, we express our feelings with our faces—revealing ourselves as we are. This section is devoted to the student as she is — a personality.

Air-raid—Rat!

The Greenroom Singers stole the show.

I have a little shadow.

Three Stooges

Hello out there in T.V. land!!

I finally got to sit in the Burden Parlor.

But it's a tradition!

and uh one, and uh two . . .

The Washboard Band entertains us well.

Which way'd the witch go??

Late again?

We gather together to . . .

Don't believe a word of it!

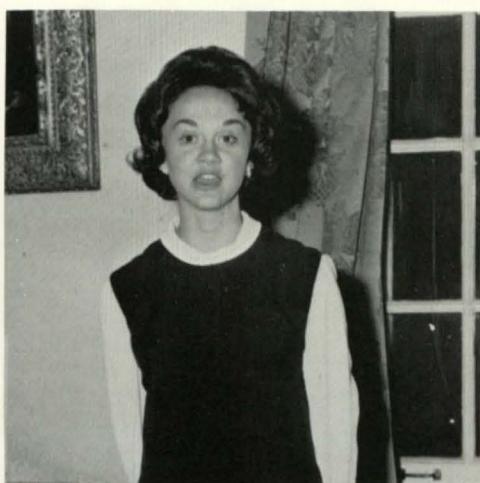

They make Christmas complete.

Who's that man sitting at our table?

Littlest Angel??!

This pocketbook's got to go.

10:32 and time for tea!

COMPANEEEEE HALT!!!!

This time we'll all sing the same song.

"Love of Life" in five minutes, girls.

Now, Dr. Gin!—even Shakespeare didn't tell them that tall.

And what's your major??

Picking out your china pattern?

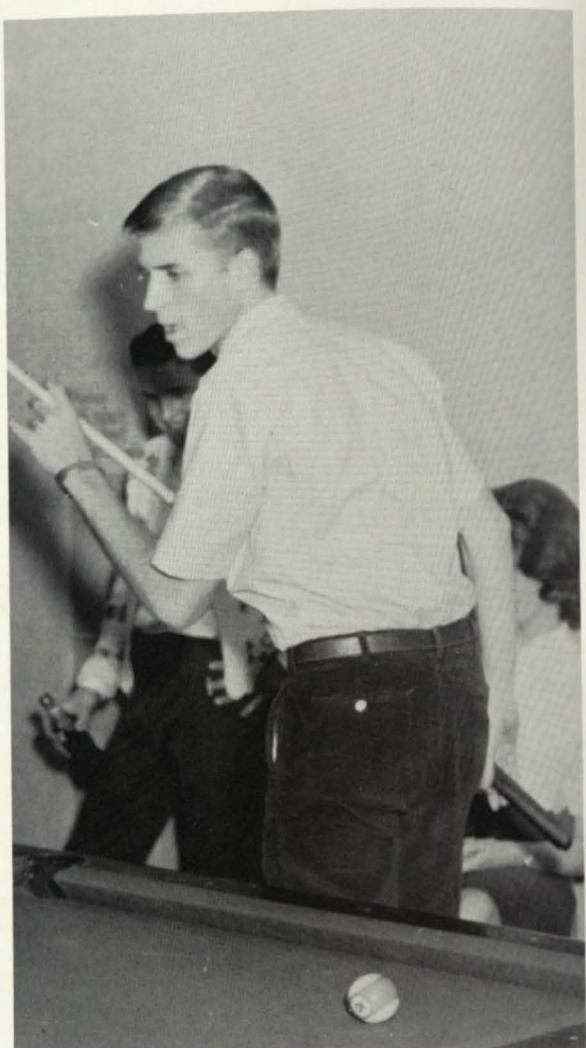

Guaranteed to make you sleep.

Open your eyes. He's not so bad!

HUSTLER

Sweet Oblivion

Mr. Welsh and Harem

All right . . . none of that.

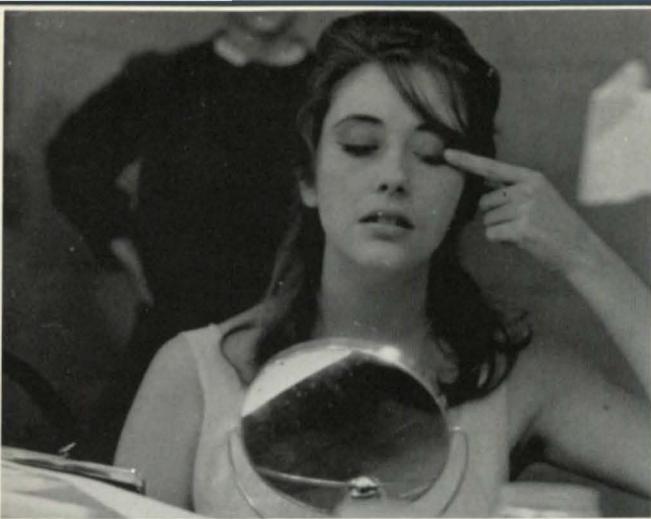

I sent my cheerleading skirt to the Wesleyan laundry.

Would anyone like to voice an opinion?

"Ah—" (censored)

But the play started five minutes ago.

Another splendid performance!

And look what we have in our corner!

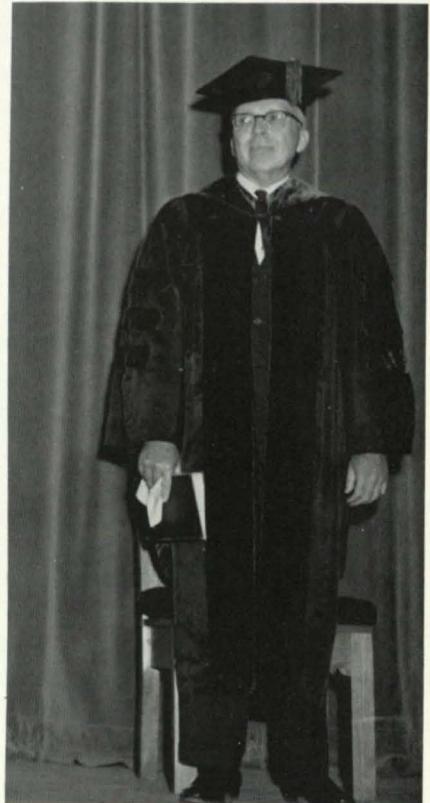

Our classes benefit from our campus visitors.

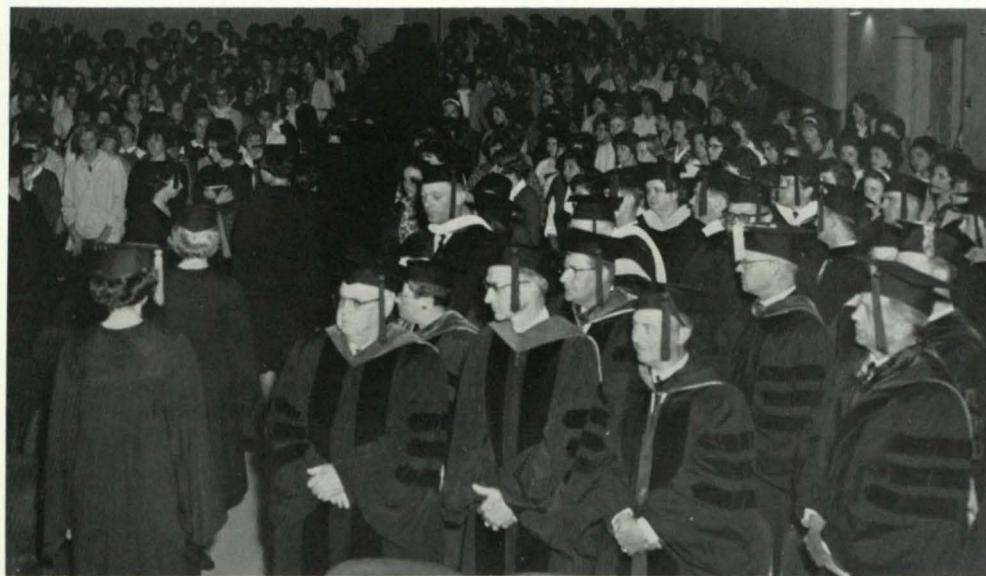

Line up, kids! This is it!!!!!!

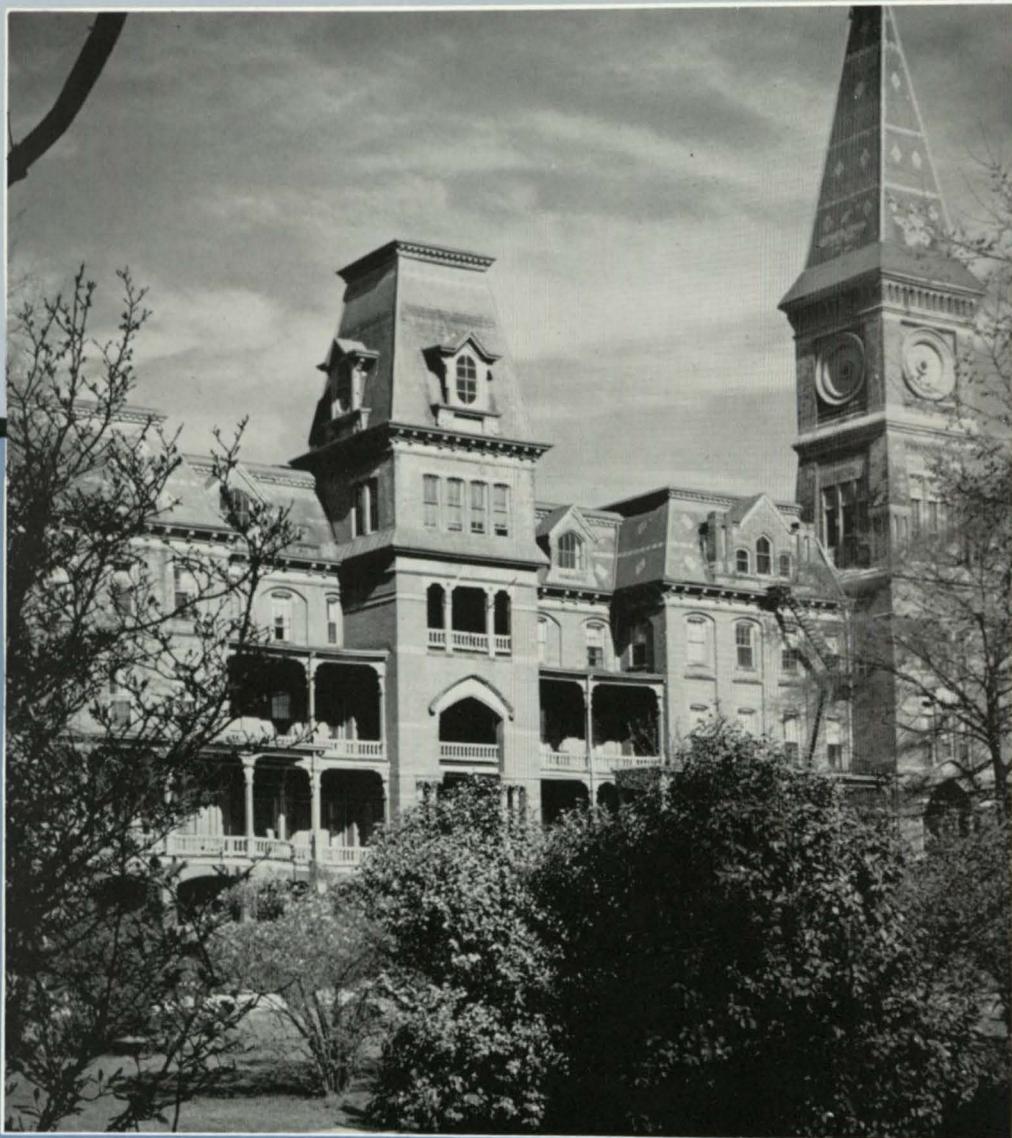

Through pictures we relive the year—we recall the events which bring to mind our own personal experiences. As we return to these pictures from year to year, we will denote their progression and relate our own progress, in part, to having been a student in this campus life.

Okey, Dean—hand them over.

"Forever and ever thy glory shall last."

Pierce Chapel

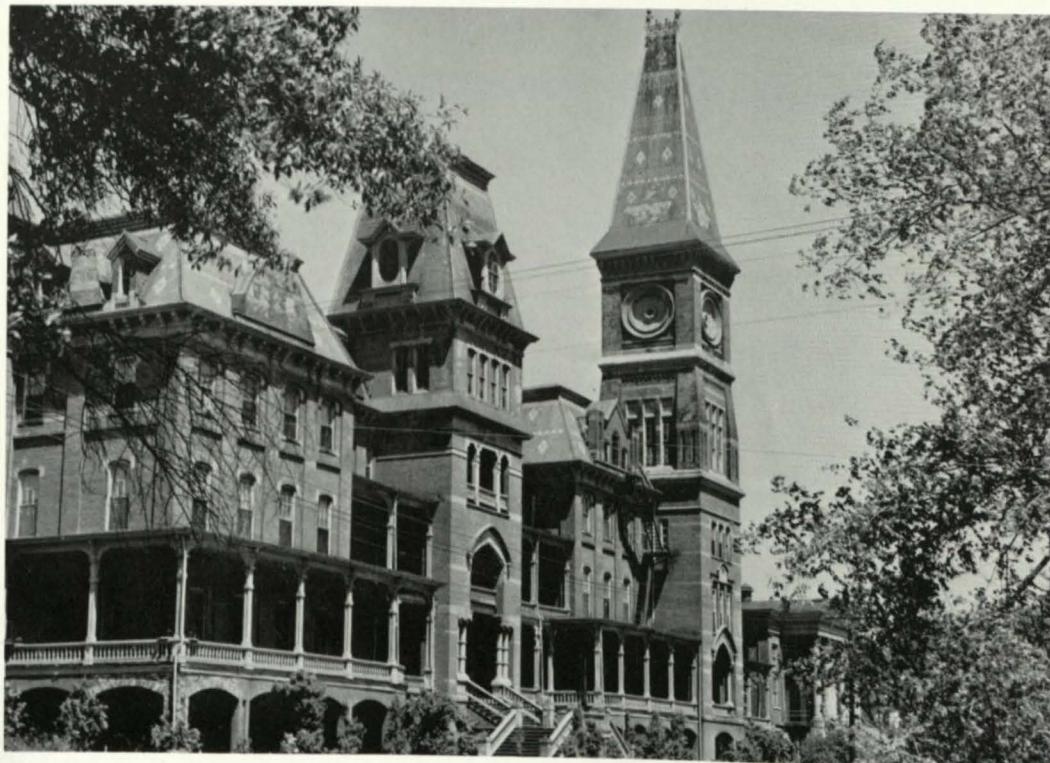

Original Building

The cornerstone for the original building of Wesleyan College was laid in October of 1836. This building which served both as a housing and educational facility was erected on College Street here in Macon.

The 1880's brought new life to an old building with the remodeling of this College Hill structure. Towers and porches were added to improve the appearance and size. Further development was made in 1928 when the Liberal Arts college was moved from this location to Greater Wesleyan on Rivoli. At this time the old building contained only the Fine Arts division of the college and became known as Wesleyan Conservatory. In 1948 the Fine Arts department was moved to the new campus site.

Even though in recent years this building had not been used for educational purposes, it stood as a landmark in the field of education.

Old Wesleyan

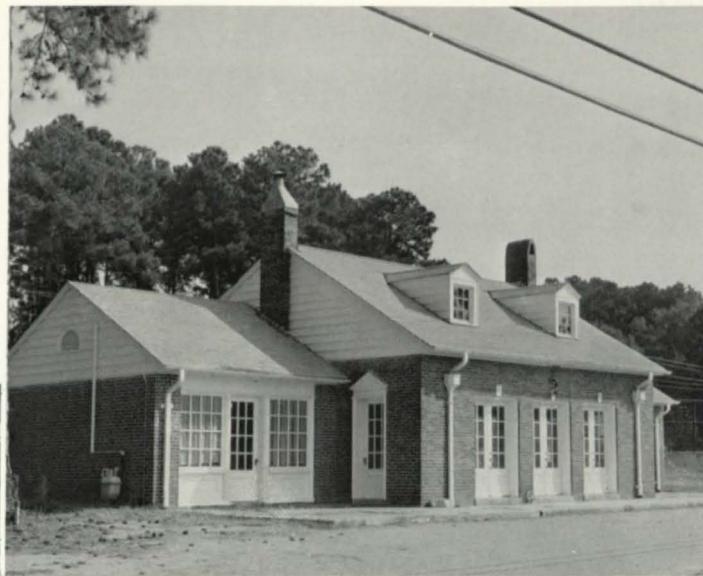

*"Old Wesleyan Destroyed!" No,
that could never be—
As long as life shall last,
she will be a part of me;
Her towers pointing skyward,
her doors of knowledge wide,
Her sacred old Pierce Chapel, where memories abide! . . .*

*"Old Wesleyan destroyed!" No—
that could never be,
As long as life shall last,
she will be a part of me.
But now I have three Wesleyans,
I love them all you see—
The Old, The New, and best of all
The One That is Yet To Be!*

Dormitory life is one of the most vital and essential aspects of a college education, for without the interchanging of ideas and learning how to live with others, a college education is incomplete. Dormitory life is centered in five campus buildings—Persons, Banks, Wortham, Senior and New Dormitories.

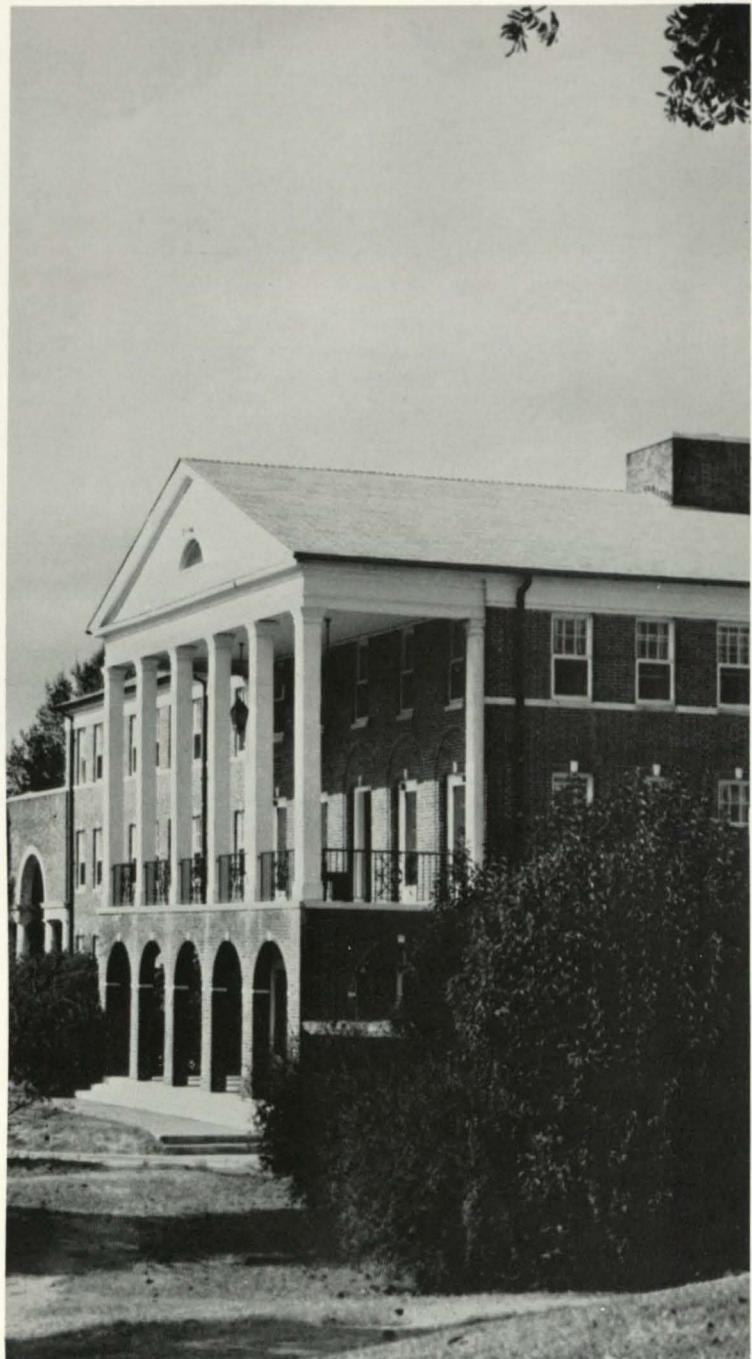

Persons, Banks and Wortham Dormitories were the first housing facilities on the present campus. In 1958, the Senior Dormitory was erected and four years later the three original buildings were redecorated. The summer of 1963 saw the completion of our New Dormitory which adds much to the attractiveness of our growing campus.

Phi Delta Phi

CHARLOTTE COOK

Phi Delta Phi, a scholastic honor society established by the Board of Trustees of Wesleyan College in 1924, endeavors to promote scholarship on the campus and to honor those students in the Liberal Arts College who have been outstanding in scholarship, character, and loyalty. Members are elected by the society from seniors recommended by the faculty.

Kappa Delta Epsilon

Members of Kappa Delta Epsilon are united by an interest in education. The purpose of this sorority is to promote professional competence and high scholastic achievement. In coordination with the Mercer Chapter, our chapter was happy to be hostess to the Regional Convention in November. One of our members, Robin Hickman, was awarded a National Honor Scholarship this year.

Pi Gamma Mu

Organized in 1959, the Wesleyan Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, a National Social Science Honor Society, is affiliated with the American Association for the Advancement of Science and with the National Academy of Economics and Political Science. The purpose of Pi Gamma Mu is to improve scholarship in the social studies, to inspire social service to humanity by an intelligent approach to the solution of social problems, and to create sympathy toward others with different opinions. Scholarships are offered so that outstanding students may continue their social science studies in graduate schools.

Sigma Alpha Iota

Sigma Alpha Iota, a National Professional Music Fraternity for Women, is the oldest and largest professional music fraternity in the world. The local chapter was established in 1959 with membership based on scholarship and musicianship with faculty recommendations. Its purpose is to raise the standards of productive musical work among the women students of colleges, conservatories, and universities, and to further the development of music in America.

Pi Delta Epsilon

The Wesleyan College Chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, the National undergraduate collegiate journalism fraternity, was installed on the campus in 1964. The purpose of the organization is to give recognition to students who have made a significant contribution to campus publications and to strive to teach the ethics, technique, and mechanics of journalism.

A. A. Honor Roll

MISS SENIOR CLASS
Sally Hutchinson

Oh, it's a long, long time . . .

from September to May. Senior year—the last one—finally began. We rushed back to school, eager to begin, ready to see what it held for us. The practice teachers got into the swing of things early—six A.M. as a matter of fact. September . . . bulletin boards . . . grading tests . . . those last football weekends. By October we'd settled down to a routine. Staying up late was again the rule instead of the exception. Halloween, and the Green Knights' own version of the Wesleyan Witch invaded the campus.

. . . And the days grew short . . .

November . . . practice teachers back on campus . . . soccer games . . . Homecoming preparations . . . then that moment when our thoughts turned from our campus to the nation . . . that weekend that would always be a part of our senior year.

December . . . three weeks of frantic activity . . . midnight stunt meetings . . . typing papers marked, "Due Dec. 20" . . . Action Research; tests, tests, and more tests . . . the Christmas Banquet . . . the last holidays we'd spend as college students.

. . . One doesn't have time . . .

The new year, 1964—our year—finally came. Glee Club tour—the last one for 18 Green Knights who gave a tearful rendition of the "Alma Mater" at that final concert. Then exams, only once more to face them. Where had the time gone?

Second Semester meant: the last chance to take those courses we'd never gotten around to . . . senior art projects . . . Yale Chronicles . . . Senior Survey work . . . recitals . . . finishing those last lab experiments . . . everyone making plans for next year—weddings, graduate school, Europe. Who knew where we would be after May 31?

. . . The days dwindle down . . .

Stunt came—Green Knights sat on the stage watching Dr. Gin drag out the presentation of the cup. Spring Holidays . . . trying to catch up on lost sleep, and arranging job interviews.

April . . . and the Wesleyannes cut their long awaited record, preserving for posterity a campus-wide acclamation—"I enjoy being a girl!"

. . . To a precious few . . .

May . . . get parallel read, suffer through oral exams, rejoice over graduate school acceptance . . . count the days . . . Reclaim caps and gowns at the Post Office, hold back the tears . . . walk down the aisle for the last time as a Wesleyanne.

And then it's over . . . four years, so long, yet so short; tedious at times, happy always. Friendships made . . . character molded . . . challenges accepted . . . and a small part of education accomplished.

Yes, it was a long time from September to May . . . the days dwindled down . . . and then they were over.

. . . These precious days we spent with each other.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS: Elizabeth Sims, President; Harriet Bell, Vice President; Carole Cushing, Secretary; Emelyn Arnold, Treasurer.

BARBARA ABERCROMBIE

Cordele, Georgia

Religious Education

Barbara was—the masculine singing voice in the shower who panicked the freshman “bathers”; the most alive mummy Egypt ever saw; an effective and dedicated religious worker in the rural South and in the mountains.

Barbara is—our favorite hypochondriac; the genius who can write a term paper without taking a note; the one who has more to do than anyone else (yet somehow always gets it done!); the Green Knight with the perfect record for going home every week-end during her senior year (we wonder why!); the financial backing of Starnes rental shop; the only one we know who shares the same last name with that special someone she plans to marry; a friend—generous, understanding, funny, alive, concerned, and possessing that special wisdom into life that we somehow often miss, vaguely realizing that she has quietly shared it with us.

Barbara will always be—all of these and more. For these we love her, and for being Barbara she will always be in our fondest memories—and in our hearts.

Elementary Education

Out of a cloud of dust and a screech of tires rides the “ole blue Chevy” that just won’t quit. Out steps the tall, slim driver and dashes into a nearby building. Late to class, late to meals, late to chapel, late to wash board band . . . “Tomorrow we’ll set both alarm clocks!”

For one who is awake only ten hours a day “Ag” is seen by us in many forms and fashions . . . long flannel nightgowns, pink curlers, thimbles on her fingers and a wash board poised on her hip; 98 trips to Columbus, Ga.; cheering at a soccer game; seeing more beauty in the simplest things, more than we knew was there; wearing a smile expressing her love for people; being her self in her own unforgettable way.

Music Education

A tall, graceful figure . . . a vision of loveliness . . . aloofness and sophistication . . . a devoted friend . . . warmth and understanding . . . a sparkling personality . . . our "Miss Charming" . . . a desire to give her talents . . . a deep religious conviction . . . an individualist . . . poise of humility . . . a determined will . . . always striving to reach her goals.

These thoughts filled with memories for the joy we have known just from being with her, flash before us when we think of Willanna, for she is a constant enlightenment in the lives of those close to her.

EMELYN ARNOLD

Warrenton, Georgia

History

There's Emma—up at the crack of dawn to be the first one in line for breakfast. But don't be fooled by this apparent adherence to the old proverb . . . "Early to rise" . . . She's just still up from the night before—deathly ill from No Doz, but gulping down just one more to make it through that test. Then it's off to the piano to make sure the 4th note in the 12th measure on page 17 is exactly right. Yes, that's our Emma, the perfectionist personified, who spends more time at the piano than in her five history courses. After a few minute's rest, she's ready to go again—whether to the Checkered Apron for pizza in faithful "Hortense" or on an impulsive trip to Florida. Who does the most beautiful "dying swan" in the Senior Dorm yet is a "lady at all times?" That's our Emma!

CATHERINE BLANCHE ASTIN

Atlanta, Georgia

History

What is it? A perfectionist? Yes. A cynic? Yes. What else? A sophisticated child who never calls anyone by her first name and who bounces around the room saying, "Oh, to be in England," or "Cheery Siberia." And, who else besides Catherine says, as she "trips the light fantastic" in or out of the room, "With the speed of light and a cloud of dust." What else in this universe is Catherine? She is a history major, and this field of study has influenced her philosophy. For instance—No Entangling Alliances! But, as Catherine always says, "Courage and Fortitude." What a girl!

GLENDY NELLE BARRETT

Savannah, Georgia

Church Music

Knock, knock, "Come in!"

You enter a neat room where order is disorganized only by a profusion of knitting needles, stacks of "Bride" magazines, records varying from Bach to Ferrente and Teicher, a bowl of soup and crackers.

Like a busy bee she flits from the Glee Club rehearsals to work in the library or to conduct a B.S.U. meeting. And most of the weekends you can see her flying to catch a train to Savannah. Oh, boy! she sure does get a kick out of watching soap operas!!

The creation and enjoyment of music is Glenda's purpose, as seen in her devotion to her church choirs and her excitement over a future concert.

We find a kind, thoughtful, yet hard-working girl in Glenda.

HARRIET CAROLYN BELL

Gray, Georgia

Home Economics

Hour after hour of quietness, she will be trying to sew in a zipper or make a buttonhole. Then suddenly . . . like a fire in the night . . . she will be heard to say "I'm through." This is the warm but dynamic personality of Harriet.

She loves people and is always ready to sit down and talk or play a hand of bridge, but most of all to take a break at 10. Eating is her middle name and there is nothing she likes better except, of course, her "punkin" Dickie.

Harriet is a combination of charm, high ideals, enthusiasm, seriousness and friendliness . . . a very present help in time of need.

Transfer: Mercer University 1; Home Economics Club 3; Basketball 3, 4; May Court 3; Class Vice-president 4; "Miss Charming" Court 4; Executive Stunt Committee 4.

LORINDA LOU BELLER

Fort Lauderdale, Florida

Physical Education

Once upon a time in the ancient Greek world there were philosophers working—working very hard on one idea which would express their ideals about human nature. They worked very hard and we of today call this idea "a sound mind in a sound body."

Of course, the people of today do not work as hard as the ancient Greeks did—we look for an able student who is also an able athlete and we come up with Lou. There is, however, a little difference between Lou and the ancient Greeks . . . she has other attributes . . .

- . . . campus leader
- . . . able worker
- . . . organizer
- . . . secretary
- . . . excellent teacher
- . . . etc., etc., etc.

Who else would keep a diary on her honeymoon? Who else would take her clothes down the hall to the bathroom to change? Who else would mistake Dr. Bledsoe for Ernestine the maid? Who else would brag about her Jonathan Logan dresses? Who else would lose weight only in her ankles, fingers, and wrists? Who else would wear an evening length leather coat to class? Who else would sit up all night studying and yet go to bed at 11 P.M.? Who else would clap for herself when being recognized as Homecoming Queen? Who else has a vocabulary including such words as ricochet and cortizone? Who else would call her mother on her engagement night and be dominated by the news of a new sewing machine? Piano

Activity explodes all around you—and you find Jeri . . . giving the appearance of the "scatterbrain blonde" but actually possessing that rare type of mentality, that enables her to memorize a recital the night before the performance.

You see a heart filled with many loves—loves she's dedicated to—her class as she gives them wonderful music for two memorable Stunts . . . her orphans as she spends her nights giving them music lessons . . . her Wallace and the home she has made.

BONNIE JEAN BRADSHAW

Tampa, Florida

Biology

Bradshaw—whether entertaining at a “10:32 tea party” with a ready joke and snarls, or purring a feline whisper into Van’s ear, Mommy Tiger displays in essence her varied moods and negative attitude toward intolerance and injustice.

Determined in academic endeavors, she is never befuddled by frogs, chick embryos, DNA, and Seminar. An exciting job with her hometown Health Department taught her new concepts about human relationships, and a sure way to prevent mosquito discomfort—“Fite the Bite.”

Among her prized possessions, one can find revered Spanish posters from N.C. State, Shalimar, Van and a new hair-do. For a Wesleyanne, whose appetite ranges from fried egg sandwiches to chateau-briand, she manages a 22" waistline and yet constantly questions her roommate with a convincing, “My legs aren’t fat, are they?”

With deep convictions about her personal philosophy of life, one can rarely know the depths of dedication and determination with which Bonnie strives to achieve these lofty goals.

Jesup, Georgia

Our strawberry blond from Jesup personifies this quote. We will always remember the gentleness about this lady—her soft-spoken ways and yet the peal of laughter that can be heard the length of the hall when she is experiencing joy.

A psychologist—dedicated to her major and profession. Having a deep insight into people—the quality that makes her a loving friend.

Yes, we will think of a smile, a cheerful hello that indicates the warm person of Beth.

McRae, Georgia

Chemistry

A tall, lanky girl with a deep interest in science. She is always seen after a long day in the lab sporting long pants and a sweat shirt, pondering over a physics or chemistry problem.

Although she is deeply serious about her work, she can always find time to tell you about her latest date or make a trip to her sister's.

A mixture of dedication and fun—this is Karen.

MEDORA JANE BROCKINTON

Haddock, Georgia

The phone rings, Jane's eyes wander from her studying as she listens for her name . . . "Jane Brockinton?!?" "Yes-comin'" Who can it be this time?—Jimmy, Buddy, Bob?? No, it's just "Aint Martha"—Ten minutes later—ring—and after a three minute conversation, she rushes back to the room with just an hour to dress for her date. Who else but Jane could make a sandwich, talk on the phone, try on every piece of clothes in her closet and every pair of shoes, bubble her hair, and dance around—all at the same time—and keep him waiting only half an hour?

For one who just "doesn't have time," Jane manages to meet each day's demands and responsibilities with poise and dignity. Jane is one who knows how to tactfully manage a situation, no matter how involved it may be. This aspect of her life is encompassed in the thoughtful and kind nature revealed to those around her. The anonymous Halloween treats, gay and personal Christmas messages and other surprises for her friends, symbolize her gracious and sincere attitude toward others.

Physical Education

Have Volvo, will travel—and off she goes to Jekyll Island, Maggie Valley, New York City, and the Nation's capital at a moment's notice. Wherever she goes, her dry wit and bubbling personality makes her our beloved "Moon Lite."

She is one of the few fortunates who doesn't have to endure the ritual of nightly pin-ups and who has the ability to change clothes while locked in her closet.

She is not easily rattled when things such as her ingenious plan for a Senior Dorm shower flops and becomes a source of 3rd floor entertainment.

She is a Cleopatra as she luxuriously bathes in a bath of "Tide" bubbles.

She is a Sonja Henie on roller skates as her ball-bearings take her across campus.

Her interest in sports makes her an outstanding athlete; her enthusiasm for class activities makes her a great Green Knight; her concern for others makes her a valued friend.

JUNE CANNON

Cornelia, Georgia

Elementary Education

We hear the greeting, "Hi, Fruit!" and we know June has just returned from a weekend in Cornelia. She bangs in the door with many suitcases, many records, many magazines, many brownies, and one baritone uke. "I haven't studied one thing!" she says and then sets out in planning a successful creative art project for her eager fourth graders. Her diligent endeavors are sometimes interrupted by spur-of-the-moment activities such as beating on the drum for a Green Knight pep rally, going to North Carolina for a snow skiing adventure, driving to Washington, D.C., to see history in the making, or just stopping to drink a coke and to share a conversation with a friend. These are the things we'll remember about our friendly and adventurous "June Bug."

LOUTRICIA CARTER

Aiken, South Carolina

Church Music

It is said that "dynamite comes in small packages," which is certainly true of this petite, 4' 10" brunette often called "Little Bit."

Amazingly this small package:

—holds two school jobs and two church jobs.

—manages to conquer the complexities of the Candler organ—even though her shortness, to others, could be a definite handicap in playing the pedals.

But . . . her main weakness is that she can not say "no," for she still finds time to act as chaplain of SAI, type term papers, teach piano, accompany choirs and voice students, and even play for TV shows and the Country Club!

How could anyone maintain the sense of humor she does after all of this? Perhaps Johnny has something to do with it!

But the greatest meaning of her life is her sincere interest in people. She will be remembered as a red-hot ball of fire radiating happiness to all around her and as a woman with the loving heart of a child.

Joy, Joy, Joy!!! What a descriptive name and it's just the right name for the youngest Green Knight with dark, expressive, warm eyes.

A cup of Kahawa (coffee) keeps her going through lunch. Studies to the sound of music, and we can always tell when the Glee club has had a practice by the cheerful bars we hear in the hall.

She is interested in practically everything that goes on in the college. Oh, boy! You should have seen her play soccer—she was just like a stick of dynamite.

She is ambitious, but also a deep sensitive thinker with a soul of an artist. Her expressive eyes reveal her deep concern for others.

CAROL JOY COODY

McRae, Georgia

Religious Education

"Is my hair up all right in back?" . . . "Is this skirt short enough?" . . . "Let's go to town tomorrow!" Personifying her name, Joy is a bright-eyed brunette who packs a remarkable bit of energy and personality into her 4' 11". Characterized by absent-mindedness, pigeon-toes, a perpetual craving for pound cake, red petti-pants, and a knack for never being long in one place, her efforts encompass a vast scope of activities. From diligently applying herself to her "major" subject, Español, to filling out forms for Emory grad school, to managing at least an hour a night to see Floyd Banks and run to Shoney's for pie and coffee, "Joyful" bubbles with zeal and an owlish laugh which suggests she knows more than is admitted.

Yet, she accomplishes all, using her chosen life's work as her measure of worth. Each evening has moments for evaluation and meditation of the day's events, and each morning is welcomed as an opportunity for learning and self improvement.

Yes, it was Charlotte who got the only "A" given in that course! This statement has often been heard on the Wesleyan campus in the past three years. She is an excellent and dedicated student, graduating in three years with a double major.

Psychology is Charlotte's chosen field because of her burning desire to understand and help people. Her thoughts are deep and her conclusions rational. She can be depended upon to do her very best in any undertaking, and her best efforts are well worthwhile.

Her life will be full and rich as she meets each day's challenges with an alert and open mind. Her "aliveness" will overflow into the lives of those around her, showing them meaning and purpose in life.

Sophisticated, thoughtful, dedicated, lovable—yet most of all living life to the fullest. And Charlotte, never forget—

"Don't you dare yell at me!" This is our soft-spoken friend from Hotlanta speaking. This is Earole (that's Carol spelled with an E). The romantic little girl with the smile who one dark night stepped on a nail while engaging in clandestine activities at the near-by abutments. Miss Cushing is also a well known singer and soccer player—and the only girl to ever give up a contact lens for the cause of victory. "Life is full of beauty, if you can see it through an artist's eyes."

We know a quiet girl who is absorbing the wonders taking place around her. These wonders later to be expressed tangibly through her talent.

From the cosmopolitan Minnesota campus, she came to join the more fortunate ones who acquired a MRS. degree before a college degree. What a routine—commuting from Warner Robins to Wesleyan every day, attending those lengthy art classes, and keeping house. But Joan, possessing a heart of dedication is successful in every phase of her busy life.

SUSAN FROST FLEMING

Albany, Georgia
Psychology

Activity is the essence of Susan. This activity ranges between two emotional poles; one is the high of joy in life, one is the low of despair in its unconquerables. When near the lower pole her activity merely becomes slowed by an untouchable sadness in that the ideal cannot always be. But these times are rare and brief because of her self-demand to accept the reality of life.

At the higher pole, Susan submits to sleep only as it becomes absolutely necessary to continue action. Her activity is the immediate result of joy in her tremendous desire to attain a chosen goal: to learn all there is to know about her chief love—psychology.

When her activity is not strictly academic, it still derives from joy—from a profound love and pleasure she finds in nearly every aspect of living, be it dancing, a beautiful dinner or cheeseburger, exploring NYC, snuggling a warm puppy, escaping witches, talking, the ecstasy of being on a horse or slalom, weeping her heart out in a Z-rate movie, smoking, laughing from the pure joy of it, being concerned for the happiness or misery of everyone, picking primroses along the highway, taking baths, hugging her pillow . . . or simply and wonderfully trying to understand and love everybody and everything in the whole world.

MARGARET MERLE FREEMAN

Mathematics

Forsyth, Georgia

There was a little girl who had a little curl right in the middle of her sugar 'n spice 'n everything nice but when she was bad it was hard, hard work. That's Marg—the bright-eyed innocent who went a whole, scary nineteen miles away to college to learn how to grow up. But as most timid little girls do, she soon discovered that the world wasn't nearly so big and scary and full of terrible things as she'd been led to believe; rather, it was simply big—and lovely and wonderful. And she fell in love with it.

It became an affaire de coeur which grew, and Marg grew with it—bringing to it all the charm, simplicity and warm truths of her twinkling, blue-eyed innocence. She brought much with her; she has lost nothing. She has gained perhaps only a useful knowledge and woman's maturity which have simply given a mellowness and fullness to her own innate wisdom and great capacity for love.

Footsteps can be heard at 7:25 a.m. as the tall blonde, with French books in one hand, a letter addressed to Auburn in the other, and an over-sized pocketbook filled with French tests comes hurriedly down the hall on her way to school.

Aside from the drudgery of being a French teacher Miss Hunter always manages to find time for some fun. At 3:00 on Friday four or more suitcases are carried out of room 215 and Chris waves good-by—headed for a wonderful weekend at Auburn.

Who else wears out so many pairs of Weejuns in one semester? Who else wears sunglasses in the academic procession at the fall convocation? Who else wears a London Fog to class everyday, rain or shine?

That's Chris! To her friends she is all aglow when she receives a phone call from Auburn. Her greatest asset is her warm smile which radiates friendliness. Her laughter can be heard throughout second floor, and all are aware that suite 215-217 has pulled another prank.

The pages of the future are half written—graduation looms ahead, teaching each student the beauty of the French language, a ring, a walk down the aisle, a family full of football players, and who knows what???

Music Education

Happy footsteps echo down the hall, an ecstatic voice yells, "That was my Bobby!", and everyone knows Mrs. R. G. Jobson, III has received that long awaited phone call.

A music education major, Becky is always going places in a hurry. Wesleyannes, Glee Club, voice lessons, those dreaded educational psychology classes, and last, but not least, weekend trips to Atlanta. Surprisingly, Becky still finds time for . . . 10:32 tea breaks, sympathizing with a troubled friend, the latest news, Bonnie's new joke and always Chicken 'n rice Soup! At some point in a gab session she's sure to send everyone into hysterics with her famous expression, "Teeth, eyes, and hairballs!" Whether she's "blasting off for Mars" under her dryer or relating her adventures along Bourbon Street, Becky is filled with a captivating love of life.

Little—yes, but a giant in more important things. A loyal and challenging friend, a loving wife, a talented student—this is Becky.

JANICE JOHNSON

Cairo, Georgia

Art Education

A "paint-smeared" artist, a merry heart, a cheery Southern "Hi" . . . you can bet your life Jan has arrived.

She has a love for many things such as clothes, midnight bull sessions, surprise birthday parties in the study parlors, but most of all . . . her "dietrite" colas which she keeps on hand for those weeks of "crash" dieting before that someone special arrives from Chicago.

Bubbling over with personality and a "warmer than toast" smile, she is sure to radiate love to all around her. Jan is truly a devoted friend who knows the joy of loving and giving unselfishly, whether it be making a poster for an upcoming event, listening to a problem, or lending her favorite formal for a big evening. These are some of the many qualities personified in Jan.

Her unselfishness and sincere love for life bring the realization that someone special has passed our way.

MARY HELEN JOHNSON

Avondale Estates, Georgia

Elementary Education

Mary Helen . . .

- invariably evoking the question, "How tall are you, anyway?"
- finding her inspiration in people and accepting them while recognizing their shortcomings
- with sparkling eyes, excitedly discussing future plans with Marvin, a friend's good luck, or some hilarious episode with "her" first grade
- sewing bells on twenty pairs of Christmas slippers for the Y Cabinet, cutting up oranges for the GK soccer team, or loudly protesting, "But I'm not the 'Y type'!"
- calming an excited discussion About Life or World Problems with a practical view formed by a remarkable amount of common sense
- cramming a Glee Club tour suitcase so full she can't even carry it
- sensing her responsibility to Y as a means of putting her ideals into practice
- valuing her friendships very much with a warmth of spirit that understands human nature

Mary Helen—ever a steady influence for those around her.

BRENDA KAYE JONES

Atlanta, Georgia

Music Education

"Happiness is the hiccups . . . after they've gone away." Ask Brenda, she'll vouch for that. Who else would get the hiccups when everything is quiet and you are trying to study. But then she's off to the practice rooms to write a fugue or memorize a sonata. A multitude of ideas and actions; fluttering eyelids and a big smile; unable to talk without her hands; gay, and cheerful.

"Security is returning home after a week at school." She never could talk them into moving Wesleyan to Atlanta, up Route 87 to the owner of the ring on her left hand every Friday afternoon at 3 p.m., having sadly to return on Sunday night to the "think" factory.

"Intelligence is making dean's list without studying until the night before the test." Sleepy and tired at 4 a.m. with three more chapters to read, she still manages to get through in time to take the test.

Happiness, security, intelligence, and friendship are only a few of the primary factors that make up the personality of our Brenda.

BONNIE MAE KEISTLER

Conway, South Carolina

Piano

Think of—

An echo in the hall, the scent of Shalimar.

An empty coke bottle.

A peal of laughter, activity in the air.

A closet of skirts and loafers and sweaters mixed with mink, black lizard pumps, and peau de soie.

Chopin and Saint-Saens and the latest by the Chad Mitchell Trio.

A paper back book and sterling silver bookmark.

Exotic tastes and a five-cent candy bar.

Practice, practice, practice—then—no practice and, "I had a wonderful music lesson."

A nervous apprehension before the recital and then a concert of delicate tones and melodic intricacies.

A 12 o'clock sleeper with a deaf ear to alarm clocks.

An excited whirlwind filling others with enthusiasm.

Think of—

A socialite . . . an introvert . . . a sophisticated blonde . . . a sensitive musician . . . Bonnie.

History-Government

Fort Pierce, Florida

Decisions, decisions . . . multiply "What should I do?" by any number and you get Judy, at least a glimpse. And a glimpse is all . . . before, defying scrutiny, she changes direction in mid-air. From giggly elf-mischievous "I know a secret" gleam in her eye, to despondent—"jump in bed and cover my head." Thriving on controversy, she delights in rationalizing her way out of a rash statement with the wealth of information stashed away seemingly just for that purpose. Yet recognizing and admiring wisdom, she earnestly seeks an answer.

A contradiction, often obscure . . . lost in the oblivion of tomorrow, yet aware of the immediacy of today.

Alright, girls, let's get this show on the road . . . I'll get up in just a second . . . Wake me up in fifteen minutes . . . I over-slept! . . . Do I smell popcorn? . . . How 'bout a cup of coffee? . . . I know you think I'm drunk but I'm really not! . . . Good-bye and good luck . . . I can't study now; I have to go to a Stunt meeting . . . Now don't tell anybody; you promise? . . . You going to the machines? . . . Let's go to the Varsity! . . . Dudley Hughes Dance, anyone? . . . Who put these leaves in my closet . . . Want to see my baton act? . . . Watch me twist! . . . I loves it . . . Queen mother on her throne—all this and more makes up Brenda.

Good natured—dry witted—the listening, sympathetic friend—loved and trusted by her students—the devoted teacher—adheres strongly to her principles—a part of everything, especially our hearts.

Fort Benning, Georgia

History

Susan, the little girl with big ideas. Who else hopes to be the first woman President? Who else is trusted with the money of three organizations? Who else can keep so many secrets at one time? Who else looks like "Little Bo Peep" when she goes to bed? Who else can look like the cat that swallowed the canary?

"I'm going craaazy," says Susan, as she thinks about all the things she must do—collecting dues for Naiads and History-Government Club, taking care of Veterropt funds, soccer and basketball practices, minor sports tournaments, meetings and then maybe studying. Still she remains calm, as she runs from one place to another getting things done, everything except deciding which date to accept.

What?

- An insatiable desire for French fries
- An "attachment" to a certain Sig Ep at FSU
- An unscientific popcorn diet
- An uncanny ability to knock out a screen with a pillow
- An energetic Penelope Pumpkin with soccer inklings
- A Miss Munck oriented appreciation of fine literature
- A willingness to play bridge at any hour of the day or night
- A constructive thinker and bold speaker
- A surprising source of witty and profound thoughts
- A creative and effective teacher . . . a principal in the making
- A person whom happiness and love have blessed.

Smiling dimples, rolling eyes,
Judy comes in with another surprise.
Pin, plans and future dates
Are all a part of the joy she makes.
Whether singing in the glee club or
Chirping about exams,
Judy's southern accent can always be found.
She never panics, but always stays calm,
Even if her eyelashes are all the way gone.
Always the Rambler—Always for Tech,
But never looking like a Georgia Wreck!
Judy . . . a non-conformist when her beliefs
are at stake,
Never lacking courage or bending her faith.
A combination of beauty, poise, grace,
And enough charm to melt Minerva's heart
And lead a certain lion to graze.

ELIZABETH ANN McDONALD

West Palm Beach, Florida

Mathematics

"C'est la vie" says Ann casually in response to the exasperated complaints of a friend. Far from being resigned or indifferent to the anxieties, disappointments, and foibles of life, Ann simply takes them in her stride.

The mysterious girl who at times seems detached from the real world yet is so much a part of it as she carefully peruses the current magazines in the library or "lives it up" at a coffee house in Greenwich Village. If she seems distant, we can be sure she isn't idly daydreaming. Probably she is pondering some new phenomenon revealed in her most recent math class. Ann is concerned with practical, down-to-earth realities, but she is quick to appreciate aesthetic beauty, and has an affinity for the bizarre.

With her amiable, mild disposition plus her strong convictions, wealth of common sense, and joie de vivre, Ann exerts a stabilizing influence on all who know her.

Sandra drags out of bed at 8:20, runs to the pill box and gulps three headache tablets, then off to speech class. Later, arriving at the Pharm for a coke and a Kent, she informs the first four rows of the senior section that she's cutting chapel. By lunch it's time for a pep pill to pull her through the Home Ec test she has next period . . . "Y'all, I just don't know this stuff," . . . then she calmly proceeds to make an A+. After an afternoon of sewing lab, she comes in and shows us the two dresses, five skirts, and three blouses she managed to whip up to add to her already substantial wardrobe. After a Social Standards meeting, four hours of concentrated study on the principles of nutrition, and three more pills, it's off to bed to dream of her pharmaceutical fiancee who supplies all third floor in pills!

MARILYN McRAE

Montgomery, Alabama

Chemistry

At first you think it's a herd of elephants racing down the hall, and then you realize it's just "Twinkle Toes" McRae. This little Miss Twenty Questions bubbles over with the knowledge of an encyclopedia and insatiable curiosity. Her endless enthusiasm and excitement are enough to exhaust an army.

Her fame is wide-spread both on and off campus—who could ever forget her triumphant renditions of "La Poloma" in restaurants from Washington, D. C., to Ida Casons, or the night she sent her roommate racing to breakfast at 2 a.m.! She is the Debbie Drake of the Senior Dorm as she does her daily exercises while eating ravenously. She is the Fred Astaire of the school as she gracefully twists in the rec room.

There is no set pattern to this effervescent personality. She is a clown, a scholar, a leader, a friend. She is Marilyn "Tiglath" McRae!

VIRGINIA GRACE MITCHELL

Jacksonville, Florida

Art

Once upon a time in a college by the lake sat our little artist Gingy—pretty pictures she did make.

But then the phone did ring and she sprang up from the chair, ran to the mirror, and began to rat her hair.

The magic she produced with a comb and with a can made her the envied stylist of all the Wesleyannes. From the phone she ran and with a mournful squeal—"How in the world could this blind-date be for real?" But our rhyming words about her are really all in jest, and what we really think of her we'll tell you in the rest. She spent many thankless hours in working for our class, a talented artist . . . a quite ambitious lass. Though our paths may take us from our college by the lake—we'll always remember Gingy . . . stately, sophisticated, sincere—these memories we will take.

SUSAN CAMPBELL MONTEITH

Columbia, South Carolina

Medical Technology

Wesleyan's own brown-eyed, pigeon-toed Florence Nightengale possesses the rare quality of individuality.

For who else could enjoy spending three hours just looking around a drug store, eat "beanie weanies" every night, drink three quarts of milk a day, have so many pictures of one tiny cat, arise at 5:45 a.m. and still sleep twelve hours a day?

Who else would own six autographed Kitty Wells albums and 72 ball point pens, give all she has to own a Thunderbird, have the courage to take blood from Dr. Strickland, want a rocking chair for her birthday, and after entering 98 contests a year be proud winner of 5 cans of lighter fluid?

Who else but SuSu . . . honest, concerned, clever, a good listener with a deep understanding of people. She is indeed unusually excellent—a person of rare charm.

Who is this economist? Moody, of course. Early to bed, early to rise makes her organized—artistic, always ready to go at a last minute's notice—a guardian of "Wimpy" . . . a true Tar Heel. A "bouncing" personality enjoying books, weekends, chocolate, 10:30 snacks, T-Birds, short skirts, and N.C. State. The wisdom of an owl, the curiosity of a cat, the memory of an elephant, and the popularity of . . . Well, every night ending with "Mary Jo, telephone."

"Rosalyn? Oh, Rosalyn?"

Rosalyn could be in a variety of places: practice teaching in a history class ("Well, I thought I wanted to teach!") . . . , in the Freshman Dorm ("I need the exercise") . . . or possibly in her room ("I'll swap you a piece of cake for a cup of coffee.") Rosalyn could be doing a variety of things: grading papers ("Mary says I don't grade 'em right!") . . . , answering the phone ("Yes, Wai, Min, that phone does have a problem!") . . . or drinking boiling hot coffee ("My taste buds are all burned out.")

Wherever she is, whatever she is doing, she enjoys being a listener, she enjoys being a friend, she enjoys being a Wesleyanne.

GLENDA LOU NEILL

Newnan, Georgia

Religious Education

Contrary to popular belief, religion majors do know how to have a good time. Glenda's example of this is her weekend church job in Cochran, which keeps her busy but which, too, gives her a chance to be a social-minded Wesleyanne.

Another one of her Wesleyanne traits is her love for good food. Many a night she has filled her notorious blue "bomb" with hungry classmates and wheeled her way into the Checkered Apron for a large pizza. Her craving for sweets is always apparent when she returns from home with boxes of cookies and homemade cakes.

Glenda is the instigator of a new course on the Wesleyan campus. It is known as Knitting 101. Her course became so popular that she found it necessary to initiate a new section—102 for those sweater-making girls.

We'll always remember Glenda—her Glee Club tour experiences, her arts and crafts course, and her mathematical mind. But first of all . . . we'll remember the jingle of her ever-growing charm bracelet.

SYLVIA SIDNEY NEWTON

Millen, Georgia

Music Education

One glances at Sylvia and thinks she is seeing a model out of Harper's Bazaar . . . the girl with the beautiful clothes who was chosen "Best Dressed Girl" on campus. There's more to this stylish redhead, however, for what other music major could possibly take Spanish and make—not an A, but an A+? There are many sides of Sylvia—quietly devoted to her music and to Miss Lane, corresponding with "Carl" at the Governor's Mansion, efficiently planning tours through the White House—and still maintaining those fabulous grades. We know the real Sylvia . . . those who do, won't forget.

Elementary Education

Linda—the cold statue with an over-whelming warmth that few ever see.

The beautiful sophisticate, regally attired—always for her Skeet.

The little girl—childlike in her eagerness to grasp and understand.

The devoted one, absorbed in a project or term paper—intolerant of interruption.

The frank one—bitingly sincere yet admirably honest.

The gentle soul with kind touch and soft-spoken word for those she truly loves.

Linda—not quite finished with today before she is living tomorrow.

ANGELA JANICE RICH

Bainbridge, Georgia

Art

Janice is an artist—brush, palette, paint.
Green—that's the color everything is. The peace about her as she sleeps through class, chapel, and lunch.
Blue—Tim's favorite tights as she taps loudly down the hall, the little dancing elf—"the coolest" in the school.
Brown—the show-stopping Sphinx and a hurriedly packed bag for a Georgia weekend.
Red—Jelly sandwiches, fires by the creek.
Black—a deep sexy voice, a mysterious air.
White—Gallons of milk, a collected calmness, a self-assuring quietness that pervades deep thought, talent, and determination.
These are the colors that paint our Janice. She's our Buddy, or is she his? We'd have to say she's both. But the part of the picture we love most—we know she's always there.

REBECCA WARD RUFF

Macon, Georgia

English

We remember her as a Golden Heart when she came back to find her place in the Green Knight class. As a freshman, sophomore, and junior she was completely unorganized, always late for class, and perpetually out of breath. But when she returned for her senior year, we noticed the change . . . for now she's not only a housewife but the busy mother of a little girl. We wonder how Becky finds time away from home to study, yet she manages somehow to keep her Dean's List grades. We admire her for her determination to complete her education.

Who else keeps her Weejuns without blemishes, breaks a toe while riding an elevator, and learns to twist unexpectedly? Susan, of course.

Besides being understanding, having an inquisitive mind, and innumerable interests, Susan is ready to travel on a moment's notice.

Elementary Education

"What a' y'all talkin' about?" And Gena enters—a burst of curiosity, eagerness and enthusiasm. She can bubble merrily about nothing for hours and then sum up in a few words a deep truth that we thought was inexpressible. There aren't many people who buy a half gallon of shampoo for 88¢ or study for fifteen minutes before a big test to learn a C's worth. Only Gena could be a spirited Elf one year and a charming Cleopatra the next. Only she could be a pert hundred pound-er who can eat all day and still crave malt crackers. And here she is: Our Manager, our own "Dear Abby," Operator of the Campus Date Bureau, our Sleeping Beauty who goes to bed at 8:00 P.M. and wakes up sleepy, Hollering, helping, fussing, funning Gena—wonderful, outspoken, unpredictable.

With cool self-confidence, warmth of personality and her own winning way, out little Gena leaves, and with her go our friendship, our admiration and our love.

A sure sign of composure is Martha . . . Ah-h-h that is except in the morning when a flustered sleepy head has been shouted at, pulled by the limbs, and finally given up on. By midday, she once again shows us her serious serene composure and strolls off across campus muttering about the five papers that are due tomorrow.

When you have Martha as a friend you have no truer companion. Those who know her are always entertained by her dry wit and keen sense of humor. Who, after all, can gather second floor around her slide projector and spill experiences of Europe for hours on end?

ELIZABETH SEALS SIMS

LaGrange, Georgia

Art

Descriptions range from "The Madonna of the Sistine Chapel" to Sims of the Senior Dorm—just who is this little enigma who condescended to share four years of her life with us? She's Elizabeth, blandly telling all her roommate's secrets to the Head of the English Department by way of the weekly freshman theme. She's Sissy, being summoned to the Dean's Office to explain the Green Knight Seniors' way out of their latest mischief. She's the girl with the enviable schedule every semester—periods one and two and 18-33 every day, and 45-50 on alternate Tuesdays! She's one of the well-dressed art majors—oversized shirt and blue jeans, with the smell of gum turpentine for perfume. (Remember the year the housemother never checked the room because of the smell?) She's our own Cecile B. de Mille—a producing and directing, coaxing and cajoling personification of Stunt.

BRENDA MARIA SMITH

East Point, Georgia

Biology

A warm heart—a welcoming smile—bicycle rides to Chi-Ches-Ters—three knitting needles—10:32 p.m.

Brenda fell right into step at Wesleyan when she arrived her sophomore year. She discovered, like so many of us had a year before, how important it was to like Vienna Sausages! Soon she was upholding the all-important "tea-time" (later known as 10:32), when hot tea was served with soup, beans with beef, and homemade cake. She even learned to make a delicious pineapple upside-down cake!

Actually her talents lie in many areas: She is an expert driver and knows the way blind-folded to the Checkered Apron. Who but Brenda would display her beauty in a two piece leopard-skin bathing suit—over her long pink pajamas. Cable stitched sweaters are now her specialties. She has advanced from bedroom slippers to a Daddy-sized sweater!

Physical Education

The sound of a whistle—a flash of whites and Marty appears—a picture of serenity that develops into a powerhouse of energy when fighting for the Green Knight soccer cup.

What a routine our day student has maintained—up at LEAST 10 minutes before her 8:30 class in order to drive the distance between her home and Wesleyan. And yet for four long years she's managed to fight the Macon traffic to obtain that 100% record in Miss Stanion's Methods course.

"Demure and quiet is she, and yet there is something more beneath."

NANCY GAIL SMITH

Fort Lauderdale, Florida

Psychology

At Wesleyan Gail has learned much about how to own and operate an electric appliance store, how not to conduct a political opinion survey, how to impress people with a script typewriter, how to dodge Social Standards and wear bermudas everywhere, how to control growth of fungi, how to memorize all the formulas in the statistics book, and how not to swallow a gold tooth and eat a grilled cheese sandwich at the same time. What a traumatic experience when one day she found herself in the middle of a Green Knight pep rally! French is her only vulgar word.

Gail will seek, attain, and seek again.

Gail will love, be loved, and love again.

Life is her Prize.

BARCLAY ANN STITH

Carrollton, Georgia

English

Barclay—

a singular personality whom the Fates concocted and constantly survey

a quick thunder shower and the calm which prevails afterwards,
a most delicate soul filled with spirit and compassion,
a Victorian essence—most romantic and sentimental,
a treasury of aphorisms benevolent with its gems,
a vision of yesterday's beauty—fair and gentle, full of grace,
a poem expressive and full of life, love, and charity,
a unique coterie of profundities and absurdities.

SUZANNAH THOMAS THOMASON

Psychology

Macon, Georgia

Who else could combine housekeeping, the care of two children, a husband, and a Dr. Murdock quiz—and still be successful! Suzannah—possessing a keen mind and a pleasantness of personality that captures the essence of tangible and intangible qualities of her experiences. Delving into the minds and concentrated thoughts of people is her destined work—to help others, a phrase second only to that of to love others—both enveloped and interwoven into a pattern of loveliness and beauty that comes from within. Suzannah with the secret of success—constancy of purpose.

GAIL STRONG THOMPSON

Coral Gables, Florida

Sociology

Who waits patiently by the phone booth for those all important calls which are always late? Who visits the Naval base at Pensacola like a walk across campus? Who sports a large KA pin? Who can never seem to get out of bed on time for Dr. Hicks' classes? These are only some of the few questions which lead to determining who this sparkling personality is.

She loves to make frequent trips in that all important white '59 Chevy convertible. She is always willing to hear others' problems and the latest jokes. She loves to talk, especially in chapel. She spends most of her time with a book before her. She will never stay up past midnight even if she has a test the next day. She is confident, dignified, and able to cope with any situation.

Her future centers around a guy—Ray—the navy, a ring, New York. She is filled with exuberance yet possesses a serious nature. She loves to laugh but finds time for deep contemplation. She has definite goals in life and determination to fulfill her dreams. No one can question that she has lived a full and fun-filled life and beyond the present horizon, there lies . . .

This is Gail!

NANCY VAN AKEN

Cleveland, Ohio

History

She is "Nancy Van"—the student who always finds time to make popcorn or eat a peanut butter and jelly toast sandwich, do her nightly exercises, or run to soccer and basketball practices.

She is "Miss Van Aken"—the practice teacher and paper grader who worries because her students' grades are too low.

She is Madame President—who can be seen presiding over Social Standards meetings or trying to find a band for the next dance.

She is "Little Nancy from Shaker Heights"—a tall girl with tall talent and tall dreams.

RACHEL FRANCES WHITE

Atlanta, Georgia

Piano

Nutty as a fruitcake and slow as a herd of turtles, Frances practices five hours a day, teaches piano, translates all those French novels, defeats everyone else at ping-pong, attends every concert in Atlanta, stays in the dining hall until everyone else has left, rearranges the music library, presides over SAI functions, and gets into and out of mischief easily.

She stays up late at night and hates mornings; pets the cat at any hour of the day; talks about Brahms incessantly; remembers name, opus number, key and composer of every theme she's ever heard.

She's full of life—an individual who defends her rights and those of others, a little girl with big, impractical dreams, a mature woman with a practical approach to their fulfillment.

We'll remember Frances as a true and loyal friend, a sensitive musician.

Glee Club 2, 3; MENC 1, 2, 3; SAI 2, Secretary 3, President 4; Sophomore Honors: Chapel Choir 1, 2, 3; Junior Marshal.

SARAH GRACE WILKINSON

Milledgeville, Georgia

Church Music

Dependability, determination, efficiency—this is Sarah Grace. Never stopping from early morning 'til late at night, she gleans from each day all that it has to offer.

Who else but Sarah Grace:

—Prepares for a test weeks in advance?

—Is able to get things done on weekends?

—Cuts none of her classes?

—Is continually looking for extra practice hours?

—Always manages to be on time?

Who else:

—Is loaded down with music, records, a plaid zipper bag, books, metronome, umbrella?

—Wears "Big Ben" around her neck?

—Is always ordering new music instead of affording herself with other luxuries?

—Can keep a meticulous room?

—Can resist fattening foods?

Yet despite her packed schedule there is still time for Ballet, a good joke, Glee Club, MENC, several church services a week.

But those who know her will remember her laughing green eyes and wavy red hair as she darts across campus as busy as ever!

Transfer: Woman's College of Georgia 1; Glee Club 2, 3, 4; Chapel Choir 2, 3 4; MENC 2, 3, 4.

BETTY SUE WILLIAMS

Warner Robins, Georgia

Elementary Education

What is Betty Sue? "YOU KNOW"—

A girl with a sparkle in her eyes—sparkling because of the things she has done in the past, and her hopes and plans for tomorrow—all shining like her third finger left hand.

A concept of life that is ideal and envied—always thoughtful of the needs of others, always living for the maximum in life, always understanding and forgiving, always possessing a deep faith in others.

She is also—shrills of laughter—Ray Charles—popcorn in the show—weekends in Athens—clothes . . . and David.

All of these qualities . . . ??? "YOU KNOW"—Betty Sue!

MARGARET WILSON

Albany, Georgia

Elementary Education

There is no explanation for Margaret—there can be no analysis, no neat delineation: she simply and magnificently IS. There is perhaps nothing more to be said except, THANK YOU. So, Margaret, we all thank you with our love for . . .

finding good in all around you,
your concern for each individual,
developing your talents and sharing them with us,
making us laugh,
leading us as a student body,
giving your time and your dreams to making Wesleyan a place we would want to be,
being strong in your beliefs and expecting the same of us.
And finally, we thank you with our love for your love.

PAMELA WATKINS YOUNG

Macon, Georgia

Elementary Education

A cloud of dust, a speed of light—around the corner comes the big “gray ghost” and out steps “Mother Pam.” One day she’s disguising herself as Goren, the next day she’s disguised as a princess with veil and ring in the long-awaited procession to the altar.

There is one thing that will never change about our Pam—and that’s her uncontrollable, unexplainable, unmistakable laugh. A hyenna couldn’t do a more remarkable job.

A bubbling personality, original, inspirational, understanding and considerate. This is Pam—a true and lasting friend to all who know her.

May Court 1; SNEA 3, 4; Day Students’ Club 4.

WAI-MIN YUNG

Kowloon, Hong Kong

Mathematics

Wai-Min? It’s pronounced like Wyoming without the “O.” The English translation of Wai-Min is “Profound Wisdom.” Her wisdom is often profound and always seasoned with dashes of wit and pinches of mischief.

When she studies, she sits Indian-style in the middle of volumes of books. When she talks, she chooses to say only the important nouns and verbs and lets her listener fill in the missing words . . . words easily detected by her expression. Wai-Min is the girl who has been a member of each of the four classes; the Chinese girl who can’t stand Chinese dresses!

She has encircled half the globe to be a Wesleyanne and, in doing so, has left an indelible mark on our hearts.

Senior Informals

Four years ago we came to Wesleyan as freshmen, many of us not knowing one person who would be a member of our own class—the Green Knight class. Acquaintances were made; friendships developed. Some of us found our closest friends in our roommates; others were closest to the girl down the hall, or the girls with whom we shared our major. Regardless of the ties, we have each found something special and very precious in our own friends. In the senior informals, we see those who will be remembered with fondest thoughts, never forgotten.

MISS JUNIOR CLASS
Ruth Ellen Philpot

Our first two years we were individuals, each trying to establish a promise of self-knowledge and future security. Now we're on our way, and we see ourselves working in harmony as a unit, a part of the whole. We see ourselves as individuals with: diversified talents, different majors, little sisters, a winning soccer game, the basketball cup, such a sweet stunt, men: gained, lost and rained out, rings: class, engagement, and wedding, stacks and stacks of Write-Rights, a long leisurely semester break, Burger Chefs and Big Boys, more TV than ever, and less time to call our own, labs, term papers, and art projects, more awareness of freedom and the responsibility that goes with it, a better understanding that follows in the wake of a growing maturity and tolerance.

We see ourselves as quality, without quantity, We see ourselves as Tri-K's and as Wesleyannes.

MISS SOPHOMORE CLASS
Susan Glover

The second year, sophomores,
Our first definite thoughts about the future.

The second year, we strain
Ourselves with work.

We listen for someone's guidance;

We hear only that

We must make our own decisions

Which determine the years ahead.

The second year, old friends talking about

Issues, ideas; laughing over silly mistakes,

Singing class songs, Stunt songs;

Studying and praying together,

Changing majors, claiming new ideals

And holding deeper loves and dreams.

The second year, when we all feel

Friendship's strength and the concern for all men,

When we had the deep shot of a death

That rocked the world.

We understand more; we know in this second year

That we must use this gradual

Collection of knowledge to be

The strong, whole adult tomorrow needs.

MISS FRESHMAN CLASS
Beverly Gunter

When we arrived we were "lonely little freshmen" just beginning the long road of life. Leaving home . . . feeling lonely . . . empty mailboxes . . . Rat Week . . . depending on Big Sisters . . . free week-end . . . meeting new friends . . . room inspections . . . telephone calls . . . Big Sister-Little Sister party . . . enjoying independence . . . wandering into a new world . . .

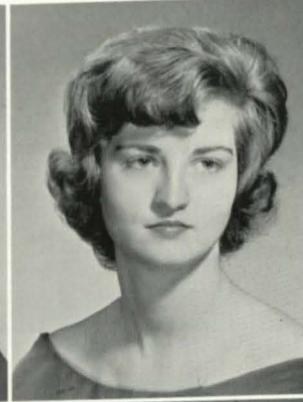

Then realizing that our purpose was to prepare ourselves for the world which lay outside our Rivoli campus, we began this phase of our "golden days." Orientation . . . registration . . . themes . . . tests . . . class elections . . . closed study hours . . . Halloween festivities . . . soccer . . . library . . . exams . . . EXAMS . . . conferences . . . grades . . . Homecoming . . . Thanksgiving . . . AP . . . research papers . . . Christmas Banquet . . . Fine Arts Building . . . rain . . . snow . . . basketball . . . Dead Week . . . swimming . . . tension . . . learning . . .

The leaves of the gingko trees were turning their beautiful golden color which represented us, the Golden Heart Class. With each leaf that fell we added a new memory to those of our college days: memories of growing up . . . proving ourselves . . . becoming Wesleyannes . . .

ART courses are designed with a two-fold objective: to give the general student an insight into the values of historic and contemporary art and opportunities for exploration in studio art; and to provide fundamental technical training in her chosen field with further study in the history, philosophy and theory of art, thereby developing the student's understanding and capacity for creative sensitivity.

Helen Cousar, Virginia Mitchell, Elizabeth Sims, Yukiko Sando, Judy Williamson, Janice Rich, Frances Bowden.

A major in SPEECH affords a student training in diction, production, acting, and speech as well as exposure to the literature of yesterday and today. This training, aside from providing the fun of campus dramatics, prepares a person for a career in speech, education, radio, television or the legitimate theatre.

Mary Russell

The DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC provides training in music education, applied music, church music, and composition. It also serves the college as a whole by offering courses to LIBERAL ARTS students, by faculty members and by programs which represent the college in various communities throughout the state.

Dottie Groh, Bonnie Keistler, Glenda Barrett, Jeri Pike Bozeman, Sylvia Newton, Loutricia Carter, Sarah Grace Wilkinson, Willana Anderson, Frances White, Brenda Jones.

It is the hope of the HISTORY DEPARTMENT to provide the student with a proper understanding of the present as a small part of the panorama of the growth and development of humanity. The variety of courses offered allow for the breadth and depth of the human struggle toward perfection. To specialize in history is to approach broadly the well-springs of every branch human endeavor through a synthesis of all knowledge. The aim is to provide a basic understanding of those forces which gave birth and vivacity to art, literature, religion, drama, philosophy, music, government, and all the sciences. The opportunities for the historian, professional and amateur, are now expanding to an unprecedented degree.

Dr. Griffin, Mary Jo Moody, Nancy Van Aken, Diana Jeffreys, Rosalyn Moye, Catherine Astin, Emelyn Arnold, Susan Lillyman, Dinah Hudson.

Gail Thompson, Eileen Mullings, Martha Simmons.

SOCIOLOGY is concerned with the study of familiar, political, and economic institutions and the relationship of these institutions to the never-ending search for solutions to human problems.

The courses of this department are designed to acquaint the student with the development of cultural and economic structures so that she may more effectively participate in democratic living in a family group as a citizen and community leader.

Glenda Neil, Peggy Chandler, Joy Coody, Barbara Abercrombie.

The courses in RELIGION have as their objectives exploration, understanding and enrichment on the part of the student regarding mankind's moral and religious heritage.

The courses in Religious Education are designed to broaden the knowledge of the individual in this field through courses in adult, youth, and children's work in the local church.

A major in ENGLISH should prepare a student for a variety of post-college endeavors: teaching, newspaper or magazine editorship, social or religious work, journalism, business. The person who can write the language effectively and speak it acceptably can find sufficient occupation in our fast-moving civilization for both hand and mind.

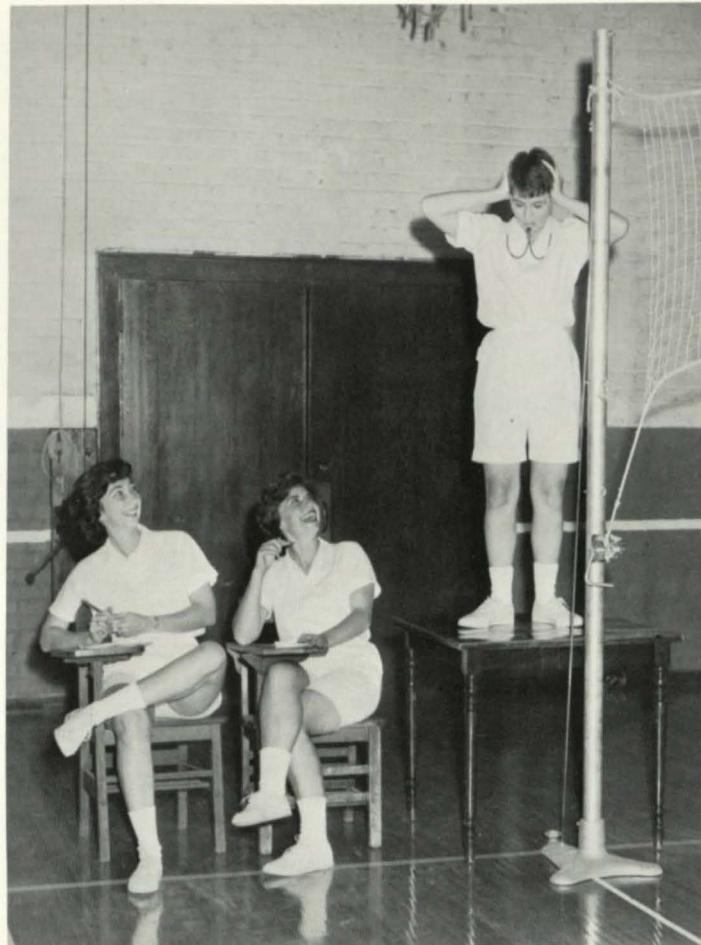

A major in UNITED STATES LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE equips the student for work in the fields of journalism, teaching, creative writing, as well as in other fields which require a comprehensive knowledge of trends in American literary thought and in the artistic and intellectual development of the United States.

The program in AMERICAN STUDIES is based on the proposition that a sound knowledge of our civilization, in its relations both to its own regions and to its neighbors throughout the world, contributes to human understanding and to the eventual achievement of world peace.

A major in FOREIGN LANGUAGES should acquire a general proficiency in speaking, reading and writing the foreign languages studied. These skills may lead to employment in several fields, including teaching, research, government service, and foreign service with private organizations or businesses. Further benefits may be derived from the study of the customs, literature, and cultural ideas of the countries whose language is studied.

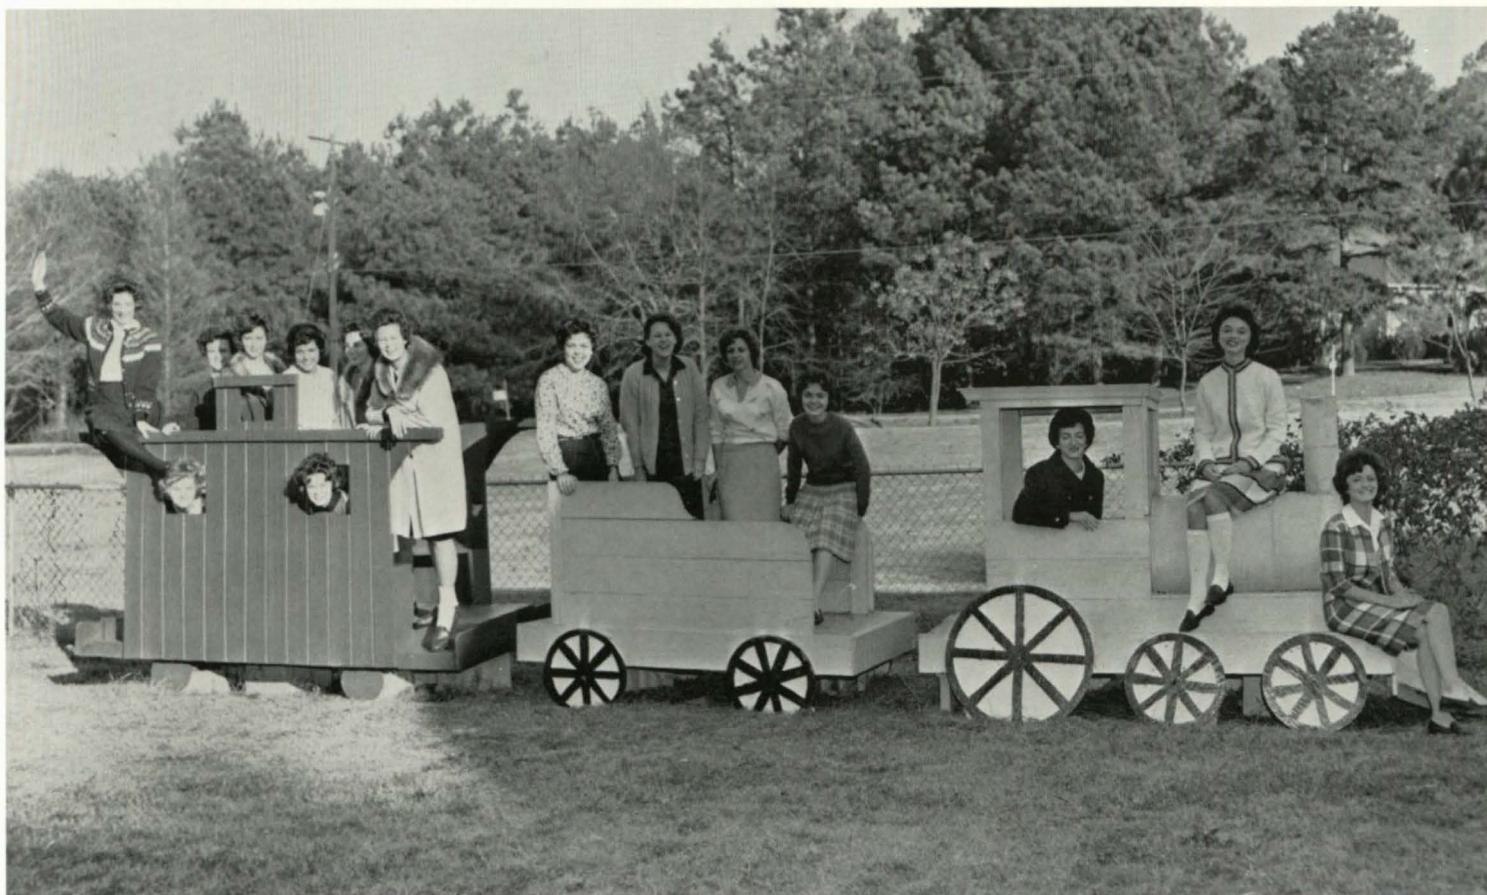

The DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION aims to help each student to build up sufficient strength and vitality to meet the demands of a normally active life; to appreciate and practice fundamental health habits; to develop a normal sense of carriage, a sense of rhythm, coordination, and motor judgement; to be a cooperative and contributing participant in group activity; and to acquire skill and a lasting interest in wholesome forms of recreation.

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION is the only major in teacher education at Wesleyan. Students planning to teach in the elementary grades, one through eight, major in elementary education and take a sequence of courses especially designed to prepare them for teaching. They spend time in the public schools observing and participating in classrooms of the levels at which they will teach. These experiences culminate in nine weeks of full-time student teaching.

This program is concerned with all phases of HOME ECONOMICS without concentration in any one area. It is a practical program in that the developing of skills and techniques involved in the management of a home, child care, and group leadership are stressed. However, considerable attention is also given to providing the student with a well-rounded general and cultural education.

Charlotte Cook, Gail Smith, Joy Cochran, Beth Bramlett.

Bonnie Bradshaw, Brenda Smith.

The courses in BIOLOGY are designed to give a student an understanding of man's place in the living world and his dependence upon living organisms, and to provide the background for those who wish to acquire a degree of competence in the field of Biology.

The professional opportunities for which MATHEMATICS majors are prepared include secondary school and college teaching, civil service, statistical, industrial and business employment. A reasoning, clear understanding of the method of drawing conclusions based on incomplete information as well as the deductive method. Mathematics as a creative endeavor has aesthetic values in addition to its usefulness as a tool in science and industry.

Marilyn McRae, Karen Brewton

Wai-Min Yung, Ann McDonald, Margaret Freeman.

The study of the course in CHEMISTRY as arranged in this program will afford an orderly advancement in the knowledge of the nature of matter. Emphasis is placed upon accuracy of observation, of measurements, and of statement which together with the knowledge of scientific facts makes the study of chemistry a valuable part of a liberal education.

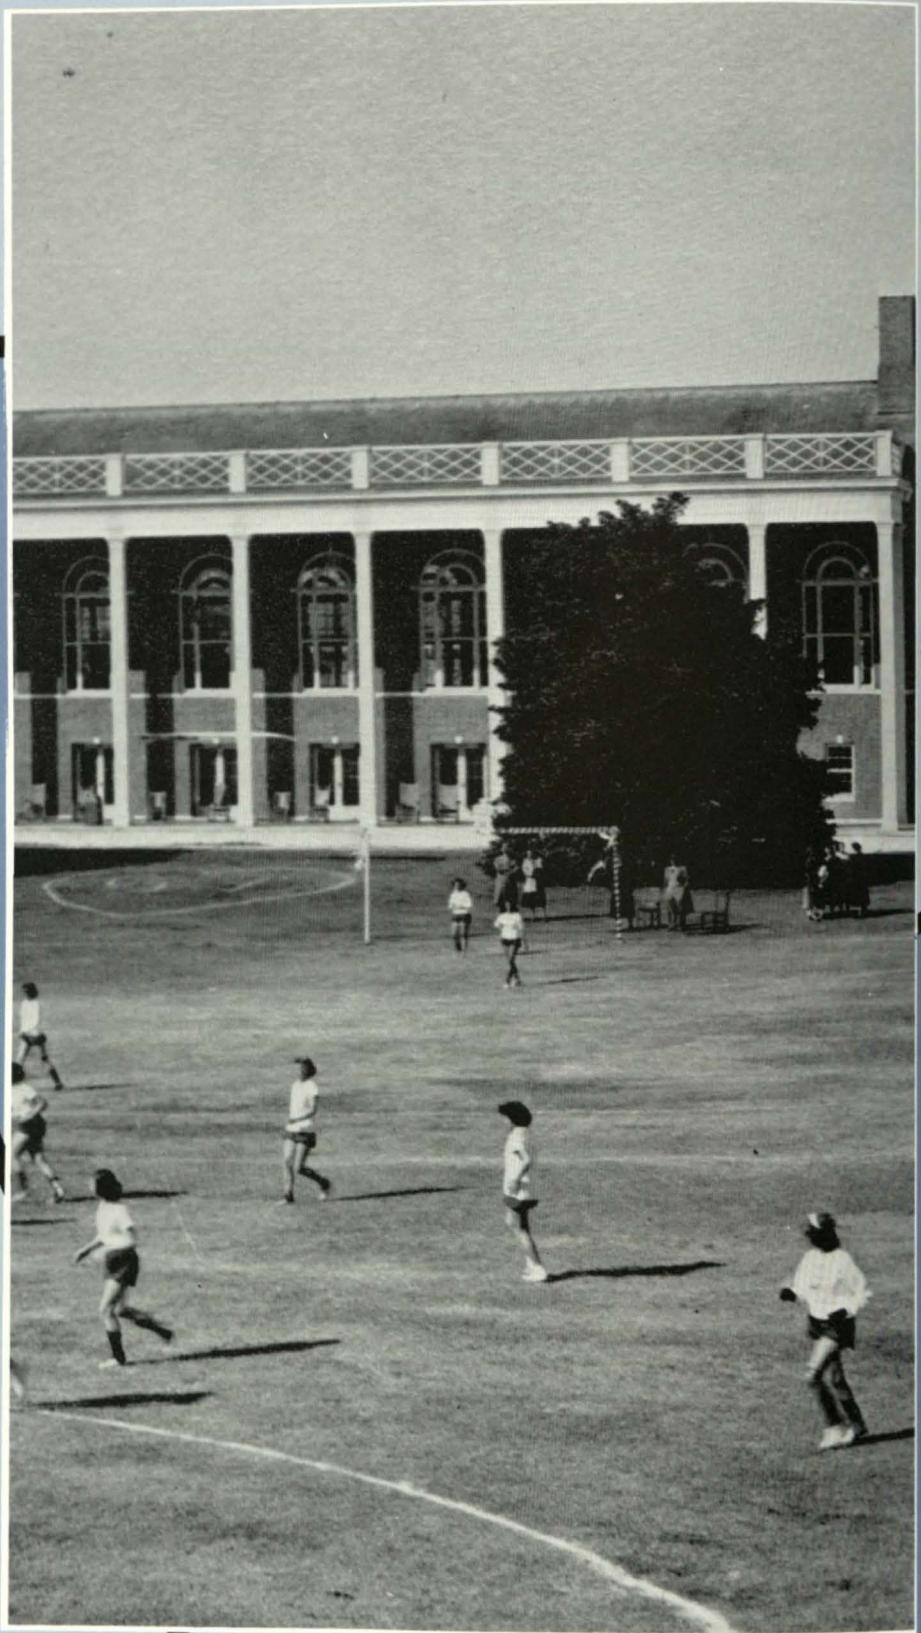

Susan Monteith, Susan Sammons.

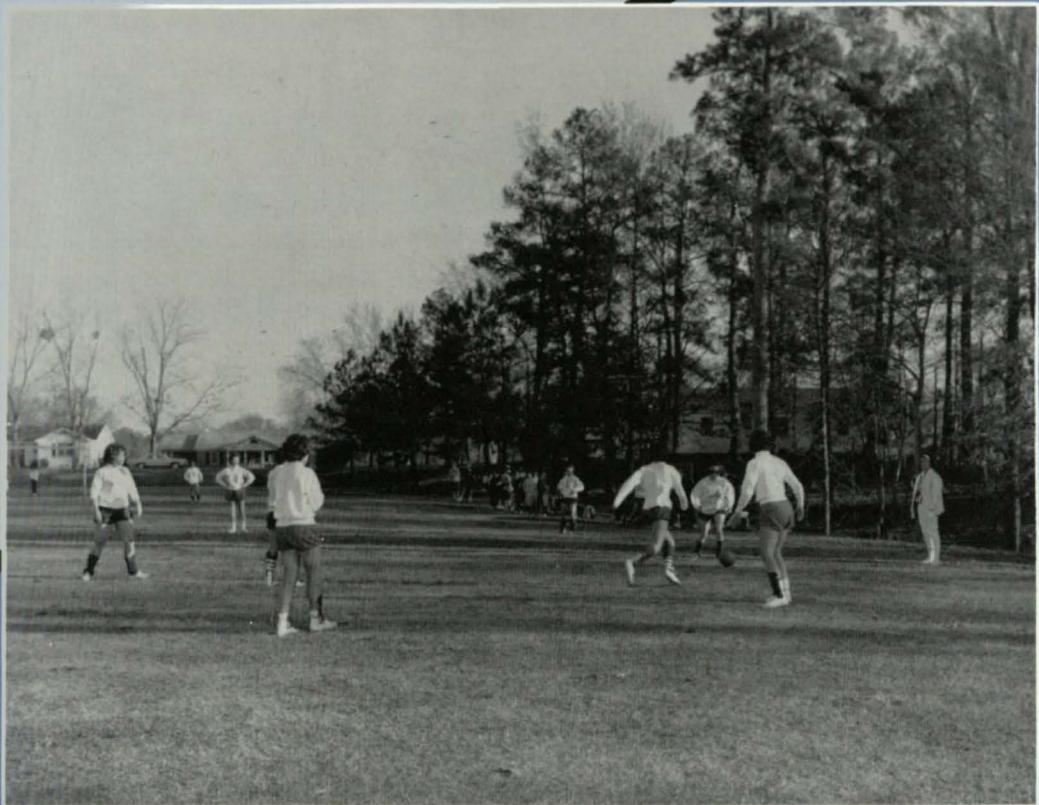

The Wesleyan student who has chosen MEDICAL TECHNOLOGY as her major must register as a senior in absentia and as a student in a School of Medical Technology. She will receive her B.S. degree.

The PREMEDICAL SCIENCE program prepares students in the science established by the professional schools of medicine, dentistry and applied fields.

The NURSING program includes both general and specialized education with supervised nursing experience in local hospitals and health centers. The graduate nurse will be qualified for the practice of clinical nursing, able to assume responsibilities as a hospital head nurse, as field teachers in schools of nursing in addition to many others.

S. G. A.

The Wesleyan Student Government Association was established by an authorization of the president and faculty of Wesleyan College. Its purpose is to regulate matters pertaining to the life of students at Wesleyan; to increase a sense of individual responsibility; to look to the common good and welfare of each student; to secure the individual loyalty of the students and the greatest measure of co-operation between students and faculty.

Each Wesleyanne is a member of the Student Government Association. The basis of Wesleyan's self-governing system is the mature judgment of each Wesleyanne. Its success is dependent upon the intelligence, truth, integrity, and honor of each student.

Social Standards

Social Standards is concerned primarily with the dress and appearance of the students and the planning of the social activities for the students. Those girls who represent their class on the board work hard promoting their standards of conduct and serving as chapel monitors and college hostesses.

Activities traditionally sponsored by the organization include Charm Week, Homecoming, which this year featured a Hootenanny and the formal dance, and May Day Weekend, at which time the Queen and her court were featured.

This year we were fortunate in being able to bring the Highwaymen to our campus for a concert in January. This event was well attended by both Wesleyannes and Maconites.

YWCA

The basic purpose of the Wesleyan YWCA is to aid in stimulating awareness of the demands of Christian commitment and to assist in the translation of this awareness into action. The Y seeks to stimulate this awareness of Christian commitment in all walks of life through the various commissions which are the basis of the organization's work.

Highlights of the year included: A Seminar of Sex Standards in the Changing Culture; led by Dr. Leroy Graham from American University, Washington, D.C.; Christian Emphasis Week, the theme being "The Place of the Church in Society Today," led by the Reverend Edgar Wood, an Episcopalian minister from Atlanta; the Washington Seminar; Stunt; and other enriching and informative experiences in campus life. A special effort was made to encourage students to strive to understand more fully themselves, those around them, and their relationship to their community, their nation, their world, and most of all to their God.

THE PRESS

Who says thou hast no soul or life—
Just mighty bars of fashioned steel?
Who says thou hast no voice to speak—
To men in sorrow or in weal?
It hears, it speaks, it has the power
To send to every man on earth
A message, whether frowned with ill,
Or girded on with joy and mirth.
Those bars of steel, those flying wheels
Obey the lightning's swift command,
And bring us music, speech, and verse,
And pictured art from every land.
Behold the thundering roar of machines
And heed the power of the Press!

Scribes

Students who have shown outstanding ability and interest in the student publications are elected by the members of the magazine staff and previously elected Scribes. They are chosen on the basis of their work in creative writing and art as judged on aesthetic appeal, originality, validity of thought and form.

Election to Scribes is the highest honor a student can receive from other students in recognition for achievement in the creative arts.

Industrial Home

OFFICERS: Katheryne Meeks, Treasurer; Lynn Godwin, Historian; Shelia Owens Creel, Parliamentarian; Katherine Champion, Vice President; Madelaine MacKoul, Secretary; Liz McMichael, President.

SNEA

SNEA is an organization for those college students who are interested in teaching in any of the many fields open to young people. Through the program of SNEA the student has an opportunity for definite training in professional leadership. A chapter is the student's local education association. It offers the student opportunities to meet leaders and acquire professional experiences beyond those which other campus activities can provide. Professional-mindedness develops as a student takes an active part in the work of the local, state, and national education associations.

Drama Club

The purpose of the Theatre Associates is to promote interest in dramatic activities and to provide opportunities for students of the college to work along with drama majors in the production of plays and other activities. The members of Theatre Associates attend plays in and outside of Macon and have presented productions at Warner Robins Air Force Base.

History-Government Club

The primary purpose of the History-Government Club is to provide a channel for the study of history and government by concerned students. At various times throughout the year, the club meets as the International Relations Club, as the League of College Voters, and as the Student Historical Society of Wesleyan. Affiliated with the Collegiate Council of the United Nations, the History-Government Club always sends a strong delegation to the mock UN meet of the CCUN.

Home Economics Club

The Home Economics Club is the Wesleyan chapter of the Georgia and American Home Economics Association. Membership is open to all those interested, not just home economics majors. During the year, the club has regular meetings with programs on various topics and sponsors an annual Faculty Christmas Tea as well as the annual fashion show in the spring in which students in clothing construction classes model their garments. The goal and projects of the year are planned in connection with the state and national organizations.

Psychology Club

Functioning as an organization to further interest in psychology and related fields, the Psychology Club is composed of psychology majors as well as other interested students. Members are encouraged to report their research for informal discussion.

Glee Club and Wesleyannes

The college glee club has been noted as one of the outstanding features of Wesleyan, and has received acclaim throughout the Southeast. Under the direction of Dr. Leon Villard, the 70-voice group presents two major concerts annually, in addition to touring a special area of the South. A choral ensemble within the glee club, the Wesleyannes, specializes in novelty songs and music from Broadway shows. Membership in this group is highly competitive and is derived through auditions. The Wesleyannes are featured with the glee club on the annual tour and also provide entertainment for various civic and professional organizations in the Middle Georgia area.

MEMBERS: Jeri Pike Bozeman, Accompanist; Sylvia Southard, Becky Jobson, Nancy Rowland, Lynn Montgomery, Dottie Groh, Reta Holt, Carole Cushing, Willanna Anderson, President; Emelyn Arnold, Robin Hickman, Jo Tolmie.

WASHBOARD BAND: Margaret Wilson, Dianne Dempsey, Bebe Ferrell, Sally Powell, Agnes Albright, Carol George.

The Washboard Band, established on campus in 1952, is fast becoming a part of the Wesleyan tradition. The band is composed of six fun-loving, harmonizing girls who gained their position through an audition. As long as there are Wesleyannes and Maconites who enjoy the lighter side of music, the Wesleyan Washboard Band will never meet its "waterloo."

MENC

The Music Educational National Conference organization is comprised of music majors who are interested in developing a practical and realistic concept of the music education profession. Through demonstrations, workshops, discussions, attendance at state, divisional, and national meetings, as well as on-campus activities and the Christmas party for the Methodist Children's Home, members of MENC find inspiration, challenge, and valuable information.

MEMBERS: Nancy Dyes, Nancy Rowland, Joy Lewis, Sylvia Newton, Sarah Grace Wilkinson, Lynn Montgomery, Ann Felton, Kathryn McCorkle, Jean Widney, Kathy DeBerry, Sylvia Southard, Mary Jane McCarren, President.

MEMBERS: Linda Segler, Sally Bone, Sandra Grist, Glenda Barrett, President; Lynn Montgomery, Phyllis Heaton, Carol Dickens, Ellen Bene, Miss Betty Brender, Advisor.

BSU and YWA

The Baptist Student Union serves as a link between the Baptist church and its students on campus. Activities this year have included college students who have served as summer missionaries, as speakers, attendance at the state BSU Convention in Gainesville, and the observance of the Lottie Moon week for foreign missions. An important outgrowth of BSU is the Young Woman's Auxiliary, the purpose of which is the uniting of Baptist young women in their advancement of missions.

BSU Executive Board: Sandra Grist, Miss Brender, Glenda Barrett, Lynn Montgomery.

MEMBERS: Deane Holt, Ann Zimmerman, Sally Williams, Judy Joseph, Margie Shear, Judy Sanderson, Barbara Clinton, Connie Wood, Katherine Champion, Carol Burry, Nancy Adair.

Canterbury Club

The Canterbury Club at Wesleyan tries to provide a series of interesting speakers and programs, an opportunity for service, and a bond between all Episcopalians at Wesleyan. Dr. Marxen from Christ Church, Macon, spoke on church history and doctrine. We heard a Twentieth Century Folk Mass. The Club prepares the altar for Wednesday morning Corporate Communions. Much has been done to bring the students at Wesleyan closer to the Episcopal churches in Macon.

Wesley Fellowship

The largest denominational organization on campus is Wesley Fellowship, designed to provide for Methodist students a church home away from home. Concerned with the denominational approach to religion, Wesley Fellowship endeavors to keep the Methodist fires alight from the time they enter Wesleyan until they are graduated.

Stunt

These people are elected by their respective classes to write, cast, direct, and produce thirty minutes of delightful entertainment for parents and friends at Stunt Night in March. They are expected to be no less than creative, original, clever, humorous, musical, artistic, dramatic, efficient, and enthusiastic through five months of work to polish their finished product. There is a purpose for which they work, too. Their goal is to unify each class through the creative activity of working together to make each stunt a success. The proceeds of Stunt Night are used as scholarships for deserving seniors. Regardless of who wins the coveted stunt cup, everyone who participates knows she and her class have won something intangible and lasting for their efforts.

Naiads

The Naiads Synchronized Swim Club is a group in which membership is based upon skill. Naiad members work to develop synchronized swimming skills, and all enjoy the recreation that swimming provides.

Each year the club presents a synchronized swimming demonstration and later a beautiful water show, which is the highlight of Naiads' activities.

Cabin Connoisseurs

Cabin Connoisseurs provides an opportunity for girls to enjoy being outdoors. Having as its main activities cookouts and overnights, the club's activities also include hikes by which points may be earned toward a W. This club also assumes responsibility for keeping the cabin in good condition.

Dance Club

The Dance Club's objective is to promote interest in dancing and further develop dancing skills through participation. Throughout the year, dance exhibitions are presented by many professional groups. The Dance Club presents an annual dance review in the spring.

MEMBERS: Dixie Dickinson, Jan Mewbourne, Dianne Dempsey, President; Sharon Hall.

Rifle

The Rifle Club is a recognized member of the National Riflery Association. The club uses the NRA range at the National Guard Armory in Macon. Proper handling, safety rules, parts of the rifle, and standard NRA shooting positions are taught by approved NRA teachers.

The purpose of the Rifle Club is to promote interest in riflery. Also, keen, healthy competition is stimulated among the members by striving for better accuracy in shooting through more skillful handling of the rifle.

"Hit the apple, not my head."

Canter Club

The Canter Club was organized three years ago when riding was introduced to Wesleyan. Its main objective is to promote interest and enthusiasm in all types of riding. The club also helps with the annual horse show. Meetings have included interesting speakers, demonstrations, and club rides.

MEMBERS: Camille Fleming, Sue Ortell, Ruth Holthaus, Lynn Roquemore, Kathy Russell, Cam Ballard, Sharon Trammell, Ann Martin, Jean Gilbert, President; Barbara Sneden, Julianne Bray.

MEMBERS: Barbara Watson, Connie Cordell, President; Lynda Baron, Moon Burt, Susan Lillyman, Mary Ann Burt, Helena Anjou.

"I'm finally on the green."

Golf Club

The Golf Club is organized primarily to encourage interest and enthusiasm for the game. Membership is open to the entire student body and is based on enjoyment and interest, rather than actual skill. The club's chief function is to sponsor school-wide and club tournaments throughout the year and to play neighboring courses.

Sports Club

The Sports Club was organized this year in order to provide an opportunity for students to learn and participate in a variety of sports, and to provide Friday night recreational activities in the gym for the student body.

Tennis

The Tennis Club is primarily an interest club, inviting both skilled and unskilled players to participate. The club requires that each member practice a minimum of one hour a week when the weather permits. This year several members participated in a tournament held in Jacksonville, Florida. The Tennis Club sponsors singles tournaments in the fall and doubles tournaments in the spring which all interested students may enter.

MEMBERS: Becky Harrison, President; Kathy Smith, Kathy Hunt, Dale Harris, Lynn Hemb, Moon Burt, Jean McKnight, Maxine Maddox, Susan Glover.

MEMBERS: Sharon Trammell, Karen Short, Sherron McCord, Kathy DeBerry, Bobbie Dunn, Mrs. Schafer, Advisor; Merritt Philips, President; Moon Burt, Phyllis Heaton, Evoline Coppedge, Sharron Hall, Edwina Eubanks.

Mask and Foil

The Mask and Foil Club is designed to teach all interested members the art of fencing. In the fall the primary purpose is to teach the fundamental methods of the sport. In the spring more attention is placed upon putting these new skills to use. Club members enjoy participating in bouts and also entering into fencing tournaments.

Day Students

“W” Club

The “W” Club, an honorary athletic organization, is composed of all girls who have earned their letters. To become a member of the “W” Club, a girl must accumulate 500 athletic points during one school year; this is done by participation in various athletic events.

The dream has become a reality — and you the possessor of a new book. The 1964 Veterropt staff hopes that you are delighted with your new possession — this being our goal.

Dreams never become tangible with the wink of an eye. The staff guided by Mr. Bill Baker, our Taylor representative, Mr. Bill Meriwether, our photographer, and Miss Cornelia Shiver, our advisor, has worked diligently to accomplish the ideas compiled on the preceding pages.

Progress is infinite and signifies constant change and a striving toward new and greater heights. This book not only reveals one completed cycle in the life of this college but also challenges dreams for continuous progress in Wesleyan's future.

A cycle is completed; progress is made; a goal is achieved.
